There is no right or wrong way to grieve. Everyone handles the emotions associated with death in different ways. The important thing to keep in mind is that grieving is a process that should be embraced. Grief experts suggest that gathering with friends and family, sharing memories, and participating in a ceremony all help with the healing process. It’s also been found that including a special urn or memento, and adding personalized touches provide comfort long after the service. Your funeral professional can help you with healthy ways to deal with your loss. The right choices for handling grief are your choices.
How would you like to pay tribute to your loved one? Do you want to celebrate their life? Mourn the loss of a significant part of your own life? Quietly reflect on all that made them special? Whatever feels right is an acceptable expression of your emotions.

How would your loved one like to be remembered? A joyous gathering of family and friends with an urn present and surrounded with many pictures and personal items? An intimate cemetery service with select words and burial or interment of the urn in a peaceful eternal resting place? A gathering of friends during which the remains are scattered in a special place? A meaningful ceremony during which small amounts of the remains are shared with family and friends in beautiful pieces of jewelry or personal mementos? The possibilities are unlimited.

How would you like to pay tribute to your loved one? Do you want to celebrate their life? Mourn the loss of a significant part of your own life? Quietly reflect on all that made them special? Whatever feels right is an acceptable expression of your emotions.

How would your loved one like to be remembered? A joyous gathering of family and friends with an urn present and surrounded with many pictures and personal items? A gathering of friends during which the remains are scattered in a special place? A meaningful ceremony during which small amounts of the remains are shared with family and friends in beautiful pieces of jewelry or personal mementos? The possibilities are unlimited.

The right choices for memorial tributes are your choices.

Unlike traditional burial, cremation offers you options when it comes to final disposition. Again, there are no right or wrong choices. This is a personal decision based on your preferences and often the wishes of your loved one, expressed before their passing.

You may choose to keep the cremated remains in an urn at home. Or you may choose to bury the urn in a cemetery or place it in a columbarium niche. Both of these options provide the opportunity for family and friends to visit and pay tribute for years to come.

You may also choose to scatter the cremated remains in a favorite place on land or at sea—a popular selection for many families choosing cremation. Keep in mind that scattering is irreversible, so you may wish to keep a portion of the cremated remains—either in cremation jewelry, memento urns or full-size urn for permanent placement at a later date.

Your funeral professional can assist you in choosing the final disposition that best reflects your wishes and those of your loved one.

The right choices for final disposition are your choices.

Any memorial urn can be chosen for scattering. Families often choose an urn based on its style and design, knowing after transporting the remains to the scattering ceremony they will have a beautiful keepsake to display at home and keep memories of their loved one close for years to come. In addition, urns are available with slide-out bottoms that simplify the scattering process. You may also choose urns constructed of gelatin and sand, providing a biodegradable product that can be left behind, allowing the urn and remains to return to the earth naturally. Whatever your style, you’ll find beautiful, quality selections that you’ll cherish and treasure.

The right choices for memorial urns are your choices.
CHOICES FOR SHARING AND CARING

With cremation, you have the option of keeping all or a portion of the cremated remains. Many families create lasting, treasured memories by sharing portions of the remains in personal mementos or uniquely designed jewelry. There are a number of selections that allow you to share with several family members in friends—either with matching pieces or with each person making their own personal choice.

Mementos are personal sized urns, statues, vases and other remembrances that can hold a small portion of cremated remains.

Jewelry allows family and friends to hold their memories close to their hearts with beautiful necklaces, pendants and bracelets that are not only tasteful and stunning, but can encapsulate a portion of the cremated remains.

The right choices for caring and sharing are your choices.

CHOICES FOR PERSONALIZATION

Cremation offers you the option of adding personalized touches throughout every step of the process. From the display of special photos and cherished remembrances, the playing of favorite music and videos, the sharing of a lifetime of stories and memories, the selection of memorial urns that capture the spirit and personality of your loved one, and even the customization of your memorial product selections through meaningful emblems, engravings or images.

Emblems can be added to memorial urns and urn vaults in a variety of finishes and styles to reflect and capture the interests and passions of your loved one.

Engraving offers the opportunity to truly personalize your selections with images or text. In addition to the traditional engraving of names and dates, many families choose to pay tribute to their loved one with significant scripture passages, sentimental verses from favorite poems or songs, or custom farewell messages written from the heart.

Personalization allows you to convey emotion and memories in a manner that makes your tribute and your product selections truly your own.

The right choices for personalization are your choices.
Stunning selections by talented artisans to please a wide range of tastes and styles… one-of-a-kind hand-crafted designs, intricate etchings, sculptures, statuary, and new visions of traditional concepts.

Artist Profile: Karine Bouchard
Karine Bouchard's passion for cremation urns was sparked by a request to help a friend. Eager to honor a special request to create an urn for two friends who had lost a child, Karine combined her love for ancient glass-blowing with her deep desire for providing a unique memorial fitting of a precious life lost too young. Karine has a sixth sense – a rare genius – for the strengths and limitations of color, lighting and shape. Her designs are poetic in tone, with each glass urn as unique as the person it commemorates. Karine's stellar talent and warm humanitarian spirit have been blended into the formation of Verre Minuit, Inc., resulting in her magnificent pieces of art created as memorial urns in the Karine Bouchard Series.

ENDLESS SOLUTIONS’ URN

Maple with honey-maple finish

An exclusive and innovative memorial, the Endless Solution Urn pairs the beauty of a Davis Whitehall Series’ laser-engraved maple urn with a heartfelt illustration from a Deaton-Kennedy stationary product or an Eternal Celebration of Life Series’ print from Ray Simon Art.

Families can choose a comprehensive theme to capture the essence of their loved one, creating a “memorial suite.” The visually linked components perpetuate a chosen theme at both the funeral home and cemetery.

To complete the suite, a coordinating, personalized image can adorn the urn vault cover (see page 6). Speak with your funeral professional about availability.
Davis Whitehall takes personalization to the highest level with beautiful hand-crafted wood urns designed exclusively for each family. From stories, photos, drawings, sketches, and other personal images, a custom design is developed for a one-of-a-kind memorial that truly captures a loved one’s most telling moments and memories.

Artist Profile: Terry School, founder of The Davis Whitehall Co.

A love for family and country spurred the founding of the Davis Whitehall Company. When asked by a family member to select an urn for a member of our Armed Forces in Desert Storm, Terry discovered there were no urns available that memorialized the person in the right way. He decided to create a custom designed urn with handcrafted detailing that met his desire to properly pay tribute to a unique life. Along the way, he captured the hearts of all who saw it. By focusing on exceptional quality, handmade craftsmanship, and the flexibility to quickly design images to meet the needs of individual families, Terry School and the Davis Whitehall team preserve special memories in a manner not previously available for cremation. Davis Whitehall views urn personalization as a ministry, providing families a sense of healing through the creation of breathtakingly unique memorial urns.

Artist Profile: Lester Lampert
Nationally acclaimed jewelry designer Lester Lampert has made a name for himself through exquisite pieces for the rich and famous. He was commissioned by the City of Chicago to design the City’s gift presented to Pope John Paul II, and that this 18K gold sculpted paperweight is currently on display in the Vatican Museum. In addition, he has created a number of innovative designs for museum collections, including the Field Museum in Chicago. Yet none of his creations have resonated to him as clearly and emotionally as the collection created for celebrating a special life and memorializing a loved one. With the great loss experienced with the passing of a loved one, jewelry can capture a moment in time that can bring a smile to your face and comfort to your heart at a most challenging time, and allow you to reflect and find joy in the spirit of your enduring love.

During the service, an urn vault serves as a beautiful, personalized centerpiece and as a time capsule to preserve cherished keepsakes and mementos. However, its true purpose is protecting the urn and contents after burial.

Many times required by the cemetery, a lined urn vault provides a protective shell that isolates the urn from ground elements and potential damage from the weight of the earth and cemetery maintenance equipment.

Many of our urn vaults can be personalized (see pages 55–63).

WHY DO I NEED AN URN VAULT?

If you plan on ground burial for the urn, many cemeteries require an urn vault. Lined urn vaults provide varying levels of protection from subsoil elements and the weight of the earth and cemetery maintenance equipment.

Leading funeral professionals recommend Wilbert lined urn vaults for superior protection and lasting peace of mind.

Your funeral director can help you select a lined urn vault that suits your style and budget.

WILBERT® DEATON-KENNEDY® ENDLESS SOLUTIONS® PERSONALIZATION

Choose a comprehensive theme by combining select Deaton-Kennedy stationary products with Wilbert Legacy Series’ prints or Personalization Plus’ images. These visually linked components perpetuate a chosen theme at both the funeral home and the graveside service.

Your personalization choice can be applied to the cover of Venetian® or Triune® series urn vaults. A corresponding Davis Whitehall Series® Endless Solutions urn (page 12) or an Opus™ urn (page 32) can also be chosen to create a perfectly matched “memorial suite.”

Availability varies by region, so please speak with your funeral professional to learn more.
